Viscoelasticity is the property of materials that exhibit both viscous and elastic characteristics when undergoing deformation. Viscous materials, like water, resist shear flow and strain linearly with time when a stress is applied. Elastic materials strain when stretched and immediately return to their original state once the stress is removed.

In ,  $w_0(\tau_1)$  is the time response of the system to a unit impulse applied at time 0 and  $w_2(\tau_1)$  is the time response of the system to an impulse of twice unit magnitude at time 0. These response functions represent the memory of the system. If the system is linear, then  $w_2 = 2w_0$  and  $h_1 = w_0$ , which is why the first-order kernel is referred to as the linear unit impulse response.
