In physiology, an action potential occurs when the membrane potential of a specific axon location rapidly rises and falls: this depolarisation then causes adjacent locations to similarly depolarise. Action potentials occur in several types of animal cells, called excitable cells, which include neurons, muscle cells, endocrine cells, glomus cells, and in some plant cells.

The primary purpose of a controller class is to encapsulate controller code. A complex application might have multiple controllers for different subcomponents, or layers, of the application. In Qt, the base class for a variety of controller classes is QAbstractItemDelegate. Code that connects signals to slots can also be considered controller code. As you will see, keeping controller code out of ...
