Now, we can do the rest of the problem by using the substitution method. We'll take the third equation and use it to solve for y. Plug this y-equation into the first equation (or second equation; it doesn't matter) to solve for z. We can use this z value to find y. So the solution set is x = 1, y = 2, and z = –5/3.

In mathematics, a solution set is the set of values that satisfy a given set of equations or inequalities.. For example, for a set {} of polynomials over a ring, the solution set is the subset of on which the polynomials all vanish (evaluate to 0), formally $\{\in: \forall \in, =\}$. The feasible region of a constrained optimization problem is the solution set of the constraints

Parallel solution sets of $Ax = b$ and $Ax = 0$ Theorem Suppose the equation $Ax = b$ is consistent for some given b, and let p be a solution. Then the solution set of $Ax = b$ is the set of all vectors of the form $w = p+ v_h$, where v is any solution of the homogeneous equation $Ax = 0$.
